

Jenna Denomme

Poetry Slam & Open Mic

October 18, 2019

October 18, 2019

At this event, I got to listen to poems, short spooky stories, jokes, and songs from other members of the Wheaton community. For example, I learned about the ghost story behind Emerson's basement, and heard poems about people's experiences with love, race, and self-acceptance. I even sang one of my original songs, the first time I had performed it publicly in front of a crowd.