

Jenna Denomme

Women's Rugby

September 28, 2019

September 28, 2019

I attended the game to support my roommate, Emiliana, who is on Wheaton's Women's Rugby team. It was the first sporting event I watched at Wheaton, and I admired not only the girls' energy and dedication during the game, but also the pride and comradery they showed after their win. That's the kind of friend group I'm working on forging for myself here.